BE PART OF HER ARTISTIC JOURNEY

VRENI AND HER WORK

Vreni's abstract and brightly coloured pieces reflect her inner emotional state and frame of mind. Her work is about finding the beauty in daily chores and endless routines of which she has no shortage as a mother of three. She also draws inspiration from nature and her interaction with it through running and biking outdoors. Her work also talks about the challenge of being present in the moment even when the world goes upside down. Vreni shares how becoming a mother has led her to be the artist she is today and what the challenges are of building an art business while raising a family. Born in Wauwil, Switzerland she still lives there with her husband and their three young children.
